From the President

I recently listened to the Powerball numbers being called out on the TV and thought "What I couldn't do if I won a Powerball lottery!" What the Society couldn't do if we had a million dollars! We could hire more office staff to do marketing- PR releases, keeping social media up to date and submitting articles to outside publications. We could have another staff member to keep after us to get our publication ads in on time. We wouldn't have to worry about having enough ads to make sure the publications paid for themselves. We could have unlimited funds to develop a top notch website. There are many things we could do with such funds. But what we would really need to do is to put that money in an endowment fund and continue to grow that endowment fund. For that matter we need to start an endowment fund drive even though we would have to start small. One of the best ways to grow an endowment fund is to encourage you to remember the Society when you do your estate planning. Wouldn't it be nice if we didn't have to worry so much about the budget because we had the interest from a large endowment fund to use? Some people have questioned why we have to have fund raising. They mistakenly think we are soliciting funds because we are in trouble financially. As a nonprofit organization we will always need to have fund raising. It is an important part of all nonprofits. The last few years have been tough financially but we are still fiscally sound. Your Board wisely put aside monies to have on hand in case we had hard times. We have NOT had to dip into these funds. We tightened our belts and we are able to pay our monthly bills on time and we have $150,000 cash on hand. So while we are thinking of warm weather, blue skies, and new foals, remember the Society when you are doing your estate planning and remember us when you win that Powerball lottery!

WHAT IS THE PONY OF COB TYPE?

This appears to be an innocuous heading to any article but a title that seems to lead to a lot of debate when enthusiasts of the Welsh breeds get together. A “Pony” of Cob Type or a “Cob” of Pony Type? Thereby hangs the dilemma.

~ Richard Miller

Let's take a moment and look back at the origins of the Section, now commonly referred to as Section C, which may serve to answer some questions. The Welsh Mountain Pony and its larger Cob counterparts existed in Wales, albeit in various shapes and sizes for over 2000 years. Prior to the formation of the Welsh Pony and Cob Society in 1901 the only point of registration for these animals from 1884 onwards was the Hackney Stud Book, though this didn't mean that they showed any allegiance to the Hackney that we once knew, nor recognize today. The original Volume I of the Welsh Stud Book saw the Section A Mountain Pony up to 12.2hh; the Section B, Welsh Pony of Cob-type under 13.2hh; Section C, Welsh Cobs under 14.2hh and the Section D, Welsh Cobs over 14.2hh. These remained in place until 1931 when it was felt that there was both a desire and a demand for a child's riding pony with more height and scope than the Mountain Pony. So, the Mountain Pony remained the Section A, the newly shaped saddle animal became the Section B, the Welsh Pony of Cob Type became the Section C and the Welsh Cob was allocated Section D. To create this “new” Section B some Arab and Thoroughbred was introduced along with Section A and some Cob blood until 1947 when any crossing of a B, with a C or D meant that the resulting offspring had to be registered as a C or D, depending on height. Today, in the UK, the crossing of Sections to produce a C is as follows: A x C = C; A x D = C; B x C = C; B x D = C or D (depending on height); C x C = C; C x D = C or D (depending on height). In the US, the crossing of a C or D with an A or B results in a C or D depending upon mature height only. An animal 13.2hh and under is registered as a Section C and one over 13.2hh is registered as a Section D.

The height limit is 13.2hh or 137.2cms. There is no lower limit. The average range seems to be between 12.2hh and 13.1hh, with anything much smaller generally losing the usefulness that the breed is required for.

So as you can see with the various mating patterns allowed, various types of animal will emerge so it is inevitable that differences of type will creep in. Some feel the time has come that these crossing patterns should be tightened to only C x C = C. This might be possible with the increase of numbers bred today but when one remembers that during World War II numbers plummeted to a dangerous level leading to Royal Welsh entries in the 1950-60 period being in single figures that any such closing could soon become restrictive to the genetic development of a relatively newly established breed group. The Section B element can raise eyebrows if you imagine the fine limbed show pony type that was commonplace in the seventies that couldn't offer the Section C much more than a pretty head. The Section B which we see more of today potentially can have more limb and may be of use when creating a Section C with more ridden ability for today's market, however the A x C or A x D has been tried and tested time and time again producing some of the “greats” within the Section C. Whatever the case, the W.P.C.S. is happy to still associate the Section B and C of those early days on their current website stating, “The Welsh Pony of Cob Type, Section C, is the stronger counterpart of the Welsh Pony, but with Cob blood.”

The term “type” when referring to the makeup of any kind of breeding stock can be utterly subjective. Thankfully we have “Breed Standards” to keep us in line but these too can be interpreted differently, something that has helped the proliferation of all of the Welsh Sections around the world on various stud farms selecting for different traits. Though we can't stray too far from the Society guidance to keep the general character so that our breed doesn't become a non-descript, unrecognizable vision of what once was. Sadly in some overseas countries this has happened to Welsh as well as other indigenous British breeds. The W.P.C.S goes on to say about the C: “Their true worth as a dual purpose animal has been fully realized in recent years, and their numbers have increased accordingly. Active, surefooted and hardy, they are ideal for so many purposes both for adults and children. Like all the Welsh Breeds they are natural jumpers and they also excel in harness — there are in fact few things that they cannot be used for.”

In sharing the same breed description with its larger counterpart, the Section D we must expect our C's to have that depth, strength and width that gives them all round ability for all members of the family to enjoy. As with the D this should not mean coarseness in limb, head, hair or action. They are not draught horses by any means. Their cannon bones should be short and flint like; their feather which they should possess should be straight and silky, their joints big and strong. Above all else they should have a dense open hoof, not contracted in any way. Their movement should be; “Free, true and forcible. The knee should be bent and the whole foreleg should be extended straight from the shoulder and as far forward as possible in the trot. Hocks flexed under the body with straight and powerful leverage.” With an infusion of pony blood some might expect that their action would be less “dynamic” than we wish to see in a Section D. Sometimes that is the case, but by no means always. Those key elements should still be noticeable; the movement must not be tied in and low to the ground with little propulsion from behind.

In discussing the key elements of type, combined with a brief history of the establishment of the Section C we now have to hand the mix over to dedicated breeders to carry it on. As mentioned before, interpretation plays a huge part in fathoming an answer to our question. Nobody is right. Nobody is wrong, but those key elements have to be retained. The title “Section C” means nothing; it's just a short cut. “Pony of Cob Type” to me means an animal with more “pony character” about its expression which may be an edge of extra quality to its total make up and possibly lighter on its feet and more free flowing in its movement. A “Cob of Pony Type” to me would lean more to the Section D in a smaller costume; a more powerful package, still with a hint of “pony character” but closer to the Cob than to the Section A or B heritage. Neither description has the monopoly though together they give the Section C its versatility. Whatever the Section C is referred as, what they should have in abundance though is “spirit” — an enthusiasm to make you believe they have the heart of a lion that will tackle all that is asked of it.

Here we have the fifteen year old brood mare Parvadean Delight who was selected as the Supreme Light Horse or Pony at the Horse of the Year Show in 2011. Simply stated, of the twenty two qualified led animals she was considered to be the finest example of her breed. Let's start where one should always begin, at the ground. She has a big round foot on the same correct angle as a strong pastern. Her big fetlock is covered in silky straight feather. Her cannon bones are short and are in proportion to the size of her body. She has a strong forearm, gaskin and second thigh so basically her "undercarriage" present us with an animal that could do some work, but in no way is coarse nor underpinned. As an older brood mare she is going to be deep, but her girth is immense giving one to imagine there is plenty of room for her heart and her lungs. Her tail set is high but not level as seen with Arabian blood and her quarters strong. The lie of her shoulder is slightly hidden by her sash but having the benefit of a wither shows us that the slope lies right back offering a similar angle to that of her pastern and an imaginary line from her pastern thru to the point of her tail. Her neck is relatively lengthy, clean thru the throat with a feminine head to finish off the photograph. No wonder her handler Justin Davis is so pleased as he bred her, together with his father Jack and brother Jeremy. The competition sponsors Simone and Yasmin Cuddy complete the momentous success. Delight is owned by Ceri Fell of the Brynseion Stud. Incidentally Parvadean Delight is by the Section C stallion Synod Replay out of the small Section D mare Dewin Della by Parc Welsh Flyer.

The following year (2012) the Pony of the Year title at the Horse of the Year Show also fell to a Welsh Pony of Cob Type, Glebedale Ding Dong who happened to be a grandson of Parvadean Delight. Owned by Simon and Alison Walker of the Cyntaf Stud and bred by Jill Williams and Kitty Bodily, remarkably he won this title as a four year old and has since qualified twice under saddle for the Horse of the Year Show. His sire Parvadean Darius is a son of Synod Replay and Parvadean Delight who we have already mentioned was by Replay. His dam Glebedale Delightful is also by a son of Synod Replay though the dam line once again is Section D which has secured the substance, the bone and the feather but Replay has ensured the pony character shines through.

Meet the Author: Richard Miller, together with Meirion Davies, breed Welsh Sections A & B at their Heniarth Stud in South West Wales. Richard may still be remembered for his time spent managing Grazing Fields Farm for the late Hope Ingersoll in Massachusetts. He has produced and shown all sections of the Welsh Stud Book and sits on the Welsh Pony and Cob Society judges panel for all Sections as well as The National Pony Society and British Show Pony Society, having judged throughout Europe, Scandinavia, North America, Australia and South Africa. Together Richard and Meirion have produced some top winning ponies including over forty Royal Welsh winners in Sections A, B and C, including two Supreme of Show Champions. Their homebred stock have been exported worldwide.

With the grand finale of the SW Regional shows at the Cow Palace Grand National we are officially on winter break and while I am sure we are all ready for a little rest...it is still a little sad to see another season fly by. Great fun was had by all over the year and I am looking forward to seeing what next year brings back to the show-ring.

Our final show was a smashing success and the Welsh made their mark in the big city two nights in a row with a Ridden Jackpot class as a form of an exhibition to show off our wonderful breed. Our Winner Friday night was Clanfair Signature and Megan Burtness and the winner Saturday night was Erin Vigil and SRF Superstars Last Impression.

We had a Welsh booth setup both Friday and Saturday night and a HUGE thank you to Tammy Burgin for manning the booth and for also providing her amazing tack swap as well. Another HUGE thank you to the amazing sponsors for the Welsh section of the Grand National...Elk Grove Milling, The Pony Habit, and Drymax Socks. Our awards table has never looked so good and all of the winners went home with AMAZING awards.

Lots of people went home with info about the Welsh as well as info from all of our sponsors.

Registration News - Part Bred Registry Amnesty

During a recent meeting, the WPCSA Board of Directors discussed the partbred registry. Some owners are having difficulty obtaining all of the paperwork needed to register their older partbreds.

The Board ruled that a new amnesty for older part-breds will be opened from January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2017.

For foals born prior to 2012, owners may submit incomplete documentation (if necessary) and the applications will be reviewed by the Board of Directors on an individual basis.

Total fees are not to exceed $100 (excluding possible DNA typing).

Registration forms are available on our website or by contacting the office at (540) 868-7669 or by emailing info@welshpony.org.

Researchers from North Carolina State and University of Minnesota Receive EQUUS Foundation Fellows

North Carolina State University doctoral candidate Liara Gonzalez, DVM, DACVS, and University of Minnesota doctoral candidate Elaine Norton, DVM, MS, received the 2014 EQUUS Foundation Research Fellows during Monday's Frank J. Milne State-of-the-Art Lecture for their work to advance equine veterinary knowledge.

Dr. Gonzalez's research aims to identify new and effective regenerative medicine therapies for horses diagnosed with intestinal ischemia, a condition that worsens the prognosis for colic cases. Dr. Norton's research seeks to identify genetic risk loci and potential candidate genes in horses with equine metabolic syndrome (EMS) by phenotyping 100 Welsh Ponies and genotyping them on the new equine 670,000 single nucleotide polymorphism genotyping array.

Supported in partnership by the AAEP Foundation and the EQUUS Foundation, the $5,000 fellows emphasize the importance of assisting equine researchers in their exploration of horse health care topics.

Congratulations Drs. Gonzalez and Norton! Visit our website library to see a presentation from Dr. Norton <http://wpcsamembers.com/video-library/> about her Welsh pony research.

ANNOUNCING THE WPCSA HALL OF FAME

Mission Statement

It is the mission of the Welsh Pony and Cob Society of America's Welsh Hall of Fame to enhance the documented history of the breed within North America by acknowledging, rewarding and promoting Welsh Ponies, Welsh Cobs, Half and Part bred Welsh that have achieved extraordinary success over their lifetime. This program's secondary mission is to promote the ownership of Welsh Ponies, Welsh Cobs, Half and Part bred Welsh by recognizing and rewarding outstanding contributors to the breed.

Governing Body

This program will be governed by the WPCSA and will be administered as part of the overall awards programs of the WPCSA although separate from the show sanctioning and high score awards program. The WPCSA Board of Directors will appoint a Commission to serve a three year term to oversee the Welsh of the Year Award and the Hall of Fame. This Commission shall be made up of nine WPCSA members, including three Directors and six members at large appointed by the Board from a list of volunteers. Any dispute resolution will be made by the WPCSA Board of Directors whose decision is final.

Eligibility

There shall be two categories of awards; individual and progeny (sire/dam).

To be eligible for nomination to the Hall of Fame as an individual the animal must have been retired from competition for at least 5 years with no intent of returning to competition. To be nominated for a progeny award the animal should either have a significant number of foals on the ground or no longer be producing. Welsh may be nominated for either or both individual and sire/dam awards.

Nominations

Any WPCSA member may nominate an animal to the Hall of Fame. Nominated animals must be Registered with the WPCSA (or WPSA). All nominations shall be on an official nomination form describing the animal's contribution to the breed. All nominations shall be accompanied by a nomination fee and a photograph of the animal, if available. The fee shall initially be $25 and may be increased periodically upon recommendation of the Welsh of the Year/Hall of Fame Commission. The fee may be waived for nominees foaled prior to 1970. To be considered for induction in the current year class, nominations must be received in the WPCSA office no later than May 1st. All nominations will be forwarded to the Welsh of the Year/Hall of Fame Commission. The Commission will review all nominations received and select a total of up to 5 finalists to be voted on in the current year. The Hall of Fame Commission will evaluate the nominees' qualifications and select animals to be voted on for induction into the Hall of Fame. Accomplishments may include success in the open show ring, the Welsh breed ring prior to or after the Lifetime Achievement Awards program, successes in the breeding shed, whether producing purebred or half/part bred Welsh or other activities where the Welsh has achieved significant success. Animals may have up to five attempts to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. Any animal nominated, but not selected as a finalist will automatically be entered into the Memory Lane list of notables.

During the first 5 years of the program (2015-2019), an additional category of Welsh foaled prior to 1970 will be considered for induction to the Hall of Fame. Up to 5 finalists in this category may be nominated for induction in addition to the 5 finalists noted above.

Voting

Voting will be open from July 1 through July 31 of each year. WPCSA members (of any membership class) may vote to confirm or reject each nominee. Voting will be held in such a way to require minimum oversight by WPCSA employees – initially voting will occur through the members only website. To be inducted into the Hall of Fame, each animal must receive an affirmative vote of at least 75% of those voting. All or none of the nominees may be inducted in a given year. If none of the nominees receive the required vote, there will be no inductees for that year's class. Inductees will be announced no later than August 31st of each year. Members of the WPCSA Hall of Fame will be published on the WPCSA website and may use the suffix HOF after their name.
